We all know that there comes a time when we may lose someone we love. When saying goodbye becomes the hardest thing we've ever had to do. So many times before, "goodbye" just made the next "hello" come a little quicker. Saying goodbye maybe never seemed too important. To say goodbye right now, though, is nearly impossible. No one ever imagines not being able to say goodbye without ever again hearing the next hello.

The hardest thing we've ever had to do is say goodbye to you. Our lives will never be the same without you here. We will always remember the fun times and memories you made with all of us along your journey.

You have always been and will always be the strongest person many of us will ever know. We know that you will help us to all be strong enough now to let you go. Wherever we are, whatever we may do, we know you will always be with us. You will always be in our hearts.

We miss you deeply and love you so much, wife, mom, grandmother, and friend.

From all of us we say to you,

Goodbye
