

*Do not stand at my grave and weep,
I am not there, I do not sleep.
I am in a thousand winds that blow,
I am the softly falling snow.
I am the gentle showers of rain,
I am the fields of ripening grain.
I am in the morning hush,
I am in the graceful rush
Of birds in circling flight.
I am the star shine of the night.
I am in the flowers that bloom,
I am in a quiet room,
I am the birds that sing,
I am in each lovely thing.
Do not stand at my grave and cry,
I am not there. I did not die.

Your Legacy Lives On . . .

*With each generation, your love will live on.
The fishing pole a dear friend, the 4-wheeler a companion.
A walk to the mailbox, a reset for the soul.
A paper in your hand, your mind expanded.
We will see tabasco and chocolate with a twinkle in our eye, remembering your delight.*

*Family is our #1, you taught us that.
You have taught so much to so many and we will continue to teach our children, with your lessons in our hearts.
Your love for nature and the flow of the Silver's stream.
The cast of the fishing line and the prints of the deer.
The rows of the garden, the bounty of our labor and the light rising through the tall, tall trees.*

*Grandpa, going around the bend, rumbling over the cattle gate, passing the Community Hall, up the hill . . .
getting up onto the deck and into your arms was our home.
These fond memories turned to LOVE in our hearts,
that we will pass on for years to come.
Your legacy is as big and wide as your presence in our lives.*

*Thumbs up until we meet you again on those streets of gold . . .
I can see it now . . . sunglasses on, hat atop your head, and arms open wide.*
