

Kelly Joy DuBray was born July 10, 1980, to Lillian DuBray in Rosebud, SD.

Kelly had a huge, caring heart: when she cared about you and loved you, it was forever. Above all else, Kelly loved her family. She had many friends, but 2 held a very special place in her heart, and she loved them like family; Jennifer Knight and Gayla Hawk were like sisters to her. Kelly also adored her two beloved dogs, Dozer and Sophia. She enjoyed listening to music and drawing, and was a very talented artist.

Momma, Moonhead, and Uncle Doodie love you monkey butt. Watch over us all, we'll see you again soon.

Kelly, 39, of Sturgis, died Monday, November 4, 2019, in Sioux Falls, SD.

She is survived by her mother, Lillian DuBray; uncle, Harry DuBray; sister, Misty DuBray; 2 nieces, Winona Werlinger ("Munchkin"), and Lilyrose Sherman ("Itty Bitty"); and nephew, William Sherman ("Little Man").

BURNING BRIGHT

BY SHINEDOWN

*I feel like there is no need for conversation
Some questions are better left without a reason
And I would rather reveal myself than my situation
Now and then I consider my hesitation*

*The more the light shines through me
I pretend to close my eyes
The more the dark consumes me
I pretend I'm burning bright*

*I wonder if the things I did were just to be different
To spare myself of the constant shame of my existence
And I would surely redeem myself in my desperation*

*The more the light shines through me
I pretend to close my eyes
The more the dark consumes me
I pretend I'm burning bright*
