

In Remembrance of Blake Williams

*It's rodeo time in Heaven
And God needs cowboys there
He picks the very special ones
You just don't find anywhere*

*God looked down from Heaven
He seen the best there was Come with me my son Blake
I need you here because*

*You're the best I've ever seen you're the one that can do it all
I hate to take you from your family
But I do make the final call*

*I'll watch over your family
I'll set their hearts at ease
The rodeo's starting now Blake
So saddle up, would you please*

*I've got a good horse waiting
And I know you'll have some fun
'Cause you'll be roping with Jesus you've talked to him, he's my son*

*He looked back one more time
And grinned as if to say
Don't cry for me my loves ones
I made it and I'll be okay*

*Remember I'll always love you
But we'll be together again some day
I died being a good cowboy
And I wouldn't want it any other way*

Legends Never Die

Just as I thought the world was starting to come around, the Good Lord blared His trumpet in his Heavenly sound. He called home another cowboy, one we all loved. One that must've been needed in the big sky above.

He was a genuine, pure soul at heart. Didn't matter who you was, when it came to helping anyone he always did his part.

He'll be missed by many, but I know he'll never be forgotten. He'll always be remembered by the smiles in every picture he was caught in.

He lent me his horse the first time I met 'em. To be quite honest I didn't know him from Adam. But for a stranger to ever do that for me, I knew right away that he was very carefree.

Blake was a good one, one we all loved. I know he's with the Good Lord right now up above. I'm sure gonna miss him, its sure making me cry. But I'll always remember that legends never die.
