

"IF YOU COULD SEE ME NOW"

In Loving Memory of Tybius Keon Andrews
April 17, 1991 – July 25, 2025

When the morning light first touched the sky,
And you awoke with tearful eyes,
I know you searched the room for me—
But please don't weep, I'm finally free.

God whispered low, "Come home, My son,"
Your work below is fully done.
Though you weren't ready to let me go,
The Lord had plans I didn't know.

I didn't mean to leave so fast,
But love like ours is made to last.
So many memories still remain—
Our laughter, joy, and even pain.

Remember how I loved to smile,
To make you laugh, to stay a while.
To play a game, to share a song,
To tell you, "Family keeps us strong."

I didn't need a stage or throne,
My greatest gift was love, well-sown.
A brother, son, a father too—
And every heartbeat held for you.

If you could see me now, you'd see
The peace and grace surrounding me.
No more sorrow, no more night—
I've traded pain for Heaven's light.

My soul is anchored, firm and sure,
On promises that still endure.
I lived by faith, I left in grace,
And now I rest in God's embrace.

So when the days feel dark and long,
Lean on each other, love stays strong.
Speak of me often, keep me near,
In every hug, in every tear.

And when your journey finds its end,
I'll greet you as your brother, friend.
Together, we'll rejoice and sing—
Forever safe beneath His wing.

Until that day, walk proud and free,
And know how much you meant to me.
Not goodbye—just "See you soon,"
Beneath God's everlasting moon.

"MY SOUL IS ANCHORED IN THE LORD"

Tybius Keon Andrews was born the older twin brother of Tyvarrus on April 17, 1991, in Americus Georgia. They were the double blessings of Richard Neal Andrews, Sr. and Pamela Miller-Andrews. Growing up in a family of faith, the boys were taught the importance of loving and honoring God, respecting others, upholding moral values and maintaining a strong work ethic. Tybius was a resident of Tallahassee, Florida.

Having professed his belief that Jesus Christ was his Redeemer, Tybius was baptized by faith. He became a member of Household of Faith and the Victory Worship Center in Americus, Georgia. More so, he represented God's love, grace, and mercy. Recently, he passionately reaffirmed his commitment to his faith.

Tybius was family-oriented and regarded as a fun-loving father, son, brother, uncle, nephew, and cousin. He enjoyed occasions when everyone got together for fellowship, fun, food, and for creating forever memories. He also regarded these occasions as golden opportunities for him to perfect his billiards and baseball games and to challenge others to play.

Tybius completed his education at Faith Christian Academy in Jonesboro, Georgia. Then, because of his appreciation for fresh air and sunshine, he chose the workforce instead of continuing his education. He was employed as a supervisor for Garcia Landscaping Company of Tallahassee.

Tybius Keon Andrews was called from labor to receive his heavenly reward on Friday, July 25, 2025. His life would seem too brief to many, but the importance of his influence on others surpassed the years he lived.

Tybius Keon Andrews' fulfillment of purpose and his legacy of life, love, and faithfulness will live forever in the hearts and memories of his family, friends, and the countless lives he touched. Among them are his parents: Richard Neal Andrews, Sr. of Plains, GA and Pastor Pamela (Jermaine) Miller-Williams of Monticello, FL; son: Jeremiah Bryant of Jonesboro, GA daughter: Za'Kiyah Andrews of Tallahassee, FL; brothers: Richard Neal (Jazmine) Andrews of Lawrenceville, GA; Tyvarrus Andrews, Alexander Andrews, Taylor Andrews, Tyler Andrews, and Rudy Andrews, all of Tallahassee, FL; sister: Camelia Andrews of Hawkinsville, GA; bonus son, Jacoby Hart; a special aunt: Gloria (John) Hurley of Americus, GA; maternal grandparents: Petronia Davis Love of Blakely, GA and James (Deborah) Miller of Thomasville, GA; together with many other sorrowing relatives, uplifting friends, and caring coworkers.

Preceding Tybius Keon Andrews in death were his paternal grandparents: Rosa Lee Andrews and Jessie White, Sr.
