

A Letter to My Momma

Dear Momma, I just want to first start off by thanking you for a beautiful 48 years of life. I don't understand how I am supposed to make it through this life without you. I know that it's going to be some very hard, rough, and tough days ahead. But then I have to remember that you taught, shaped, and molded me to be strong. The power of prayer and to lean and depend on God, to look to the hills from which cometh my help, because my help cometh from nobody but God. Momma, you are my best friend, and you always will be; no one will ever be able to take your place. Momma, there has never been a time in my life when I needed you that you weren't there. I thank you for being the best grandmother to your three grandchildren and great-granddaughter. I thank you for the care, nurture, and love that you always gave to them. I thank you for loving me and caring for me. I thank you for teaching me how to be the mother that I needed to be to my children. I thank you for all the whoopings when I was bad, because I REALLY needed them (LOL). Even though I didn't understand then, I completely understand now. I thank you for always making sure that I had everything that I needed and a lot of what I wanted (LOL). Momma, you will forever be my queen. Momma, you will always be the wind beneath my wings, because you will always be my #1 HERO!! I LOVE you so very much, momma, and God knows that I am going to MISS you so very deeply!!
